

TEAM

From Local Pathfinder Lodge

Will Put on Floor Work at Randolph.

Steady Increase In Ranks of Woodmen.

Chevaliers to Picnic at Silver Lake July 30.

At the meeting of Akron Lodge, of the Pathfinders, last Monday evening, it was decided by a vote that the team and as many others as wished, should go to Randolph about August 20, to put on floor work for the lodge at that place. The team to go will probably be selected at the meeting next Monday evening. Those who wish to go with the lodge team should be at the lodge meeting at that time. The trip to Cleveland has not been fully decided upon.

President Vance read the list of names of the new relief committee of fifteen who are to look after sick members for the next six months. There are very few now on the sick list.

Sister Surgeon entertained the lodge with a nice little recitation. Bros. Tom Nicols, Howard Mitchell and E. Edwards will entertain next Monday evening.

The prospects for a harvest of new members this fall and winter are very good, and No. 1 will take on new life as soon as the hot weather is over.

MODERN WOODMEN.

Akron Camp held an interesting meeting at Tip Top hall on Main st., last Wednesday evening. New applications were received and several candidates were given their first introduction into the mysteries of Woodcraft. The hot weather has a bad effect on the attendance. This should not be. The neighbors should arouse themselves and all call at least once a month, as those who remain at home, don't know what they are missing.

The manager's report for the past six months was the best we ever had yet, and we hope to continue the good work, as we are speedily climbing up to the five hundred mark.

Let us all roll up our sleeves and see whether we can not have 500 Neighbors enrolled by Jan. 1, 1903.

The first Wednesday in August we will have an interesting debate on the new re-adjustment plan. As you are all interested it will be to your advantage to come, hear and take part.

Owing to the resignation of Mr. Hall, Mr. Hanson was elected to fill out the unexpired term of Worthy Advisor. Mr. Warner was elected to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Griffiths as Watchman. Mr. Walton was appointed Chief Forester, in place of Mr. Huffman, who resigned.

THE CHEVALIERS.

Akron Castle met in regular session last Wednesday evening, with a large attendance. There were additional applications presented and a class of four initiated.

The Castle decided to hold its second annual picnic at Silver Lake on Wednesday, July 30, and committees were appointed to make the necessary arrangements. There will be a game of ball by two of the best teams in Summit County, and the Great Western Band will furnish music for the occasion. It is expected that this will be a big success, and all members of the order and their friends are urged to be present.

Ellen Terry's Daughter Is Winning Fame as a Designer

ELLEN TERRY'S DAUGHTER

London, July 28.—Miss Ailsa Craig, daughter of Ellen Terry, is making a reputation for herself as a designer of costumes. When Sir Henry Irving produced Robespierre it was she who designed the splendid, gorgeous costumes used. Miss Craig is dark, with a severe cast of features.

Some of the members who have been absent for about six months might come up and get re-acquainted.

THE TRIUMPH OF THE TOMATO.

Here is a fruit for an epicure, meat, Canned and pickled, and smothered in sweet.

To the last decade has been left the discovery of this beautiful addition to our table dainties; though nature presented this offering in most tempting guise and with her usual liberality. It was formerly regarded, first with suspicion, then prized merely as a curiosity among garden plants, until some one, led by a more venturesome spirit than the rest, risked danger from the poison supposed to lurk within its gay and attractive form, and found it something greatly to be desired and entirely undeserving the evil reputation thrust upon it. The agreeable acidity of its juice, the mellow tenderness of its meat, and the gay freshness, making it a most tempting and harmonious summer food, and being a food easily preserved for winter use in the several ways which make it available to serve as either fruit or vegetables, it required but slight acquaintance to make it one of our most popular garden products.

It is largely composed of water, which lowers its nutritive, but not its food value. It makes an incomparable relish, whether eaten raw or cooked, and is justly esteemed by all salad makers, and is serviceable to the cook in the preparation of almost every class of dishes from soups to dessert.

Whether we contemplate this product as the pomme d'amour, so deeply loved by the Provencal, and nourished by the Spaniard as tenderly as his highly prized garlic, or as a plain, practical, every day vegetable, we cannot fail to recognize its manifold virtues; nor can we overestimate its importance as a culinary gift.

GRILLED TOMATOES.

The dark red tomatoes are the best for grilling. They should be ripe, but firm. Do not peel them. Cut a thin slice from stem and blossom end and place in a fine wire broiler, stem end next to the fire and broil over a clear fire, from three to eight minutes on each side, according to size of tomato. Season with salt and pepper and serve with mince steaks or on slices of toast with cream sauce.

CORN AND TOMATOES.

Cut boiled corn from the cob, leaving the husk; to each cup of corn allow two cups of stewed and strained tomatoes, which have been well seasoned with salt, pepper and butter. Cook them together until boiling hot and then add a little good cream and serve at once.

SCALLOP OF TOMATO AND POTATOES.

Season a pint of peeled and chopped tomatoes with salt, pepper and onion juice to suit the taste. Pare enough potatoes to make a cupful when chopped fine. Butter a baking dish and sprinkle with bread crumbs and put in half of the tomatoes; then a layer of soft crackers, buttered and broken in coarse bits. Cover the crackers with two heaping teaspoonfuls of grated American cheese. Then add the remainder of the tomatoes, more cracker crumbs and bits of butter and place in a hot oven. Bake 20 minutes. Serve at once.

STUFFED TOMATOES.

Select tomatoes that are firm and of uniform size. Cut a slice from the stem end and scoop out the seeds, leaving the pulp. For six good sized tomatoes mix two cups of fine bread crumbs with a small onion minced fine, one tablespoonful of butter, melted, a teaspoonful of salt and a quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper. Fill tomatoes with this and set in a baking dish with a very little water to keep them from burning. Bake them until tender, but not broken. Serve on individual plates with a sprig of parsley at the side.

UNCLE RUSSELL

Has a Keen Memory In All Things Financial.

New York, July 28.—This story is told in Wall street: A man who was a broker back in 1877 bought a "put" from Russell Sage and had a dispute with him over the price as to whether it was to be $100 or $101. The broker only had $100 in cash with him, and Mr. Sage finally said he might have the "put" but could "owe him the dollar." The former broker, so the story went, met Mr. Sage the day before yesterday for the first time since the "put" transaction 25 years ago. After greetings Mr. Sage remarked: "You remember you owe me a dollar."

ROPE BROKE

But the Poor Girl's Neck Was Also Broken.

Bedford, Ind., July 28.—Four days ago Miss Elvira Gilmore, a handsome young lady of this city, disappeared from the home of Dr. A. T. Withers, where she had made her home for some time. She had been acting rather moodily for a day or two, and shortly after rising in the morning she disappeared. Her former home was at Kolen, Green county.

While searching in a dense thicket a few yards east of the Southern Indiana freight office, yesterday, Morton Hunter, a stone cutter, came across Miss Gilmore's dead body lying near a little path. She had climbed a tree, a distance of 20 feet, and had carefully tied a cotton rope, and adjusting the rope to her neck, made the fatal leap. The distance was so great that the rope broke, but her neck was broken also. Her body was so badly disfigured that he was only recognized by her clothing. A love affair of recent occurrence may be at the bottom of it.
